SAMOAN CLIPPER BLOWN TO BITS, SANK IN 1,000 FATHOMS

Two-Hour Gap In Plane's Log Perplexes Investigators; Officials Suspect Ship Caught Fire As Sparks From Engine Ignited Gasoline Being Dumped For Landing

By B. F. KNEUBUHL

United Press Staff Correspondent

PAGO PAGO, Tutuila Island, American Samoa, (Copyright 1938 by United Press)—The Samoan Clipper went down in 1,000 fathoms of water after an explosion so terrific that it strewed the ocean with tiny bits of debris from the sheltered interior of the fuselage, searchers reported today.

The old U. S. minesweeper Avocet returned late last night from an oily splotch of the sea 14 miles from the island where Captain Edwin C. Musick and his six companions of the Clipper crew were lost Tuesday morning.

The wreckage that was left, Chief Boatswain H. S. Bogan of the Avocet said, indicated that the Clipper was blown to pieces.

"Bits of wood and paper covered the sea. They seemed to be fragments from the interior of the plane. All the pieces were from one to six inches square. We found nothing larger than that.

"We found one bent tie clasp which we believe belonged to Brooks" (engineering officer.)

They also found a coat, Bogan said, bearing the Pan American insignia. The coat was burned full of holes. A small piece of the chart board was identified and the book of navigation tables was picked up.

The Avocet crew took soundings and found the water to be more than a mile deep.

Little more was known of the clipper's fate than that she burned and sank. Several things about her disastrous trip remained to be solved.

One was a two-hour gap in the plane's log. It was at 5:30 a. m., Samoan time, Tuesday, when Capt. Musick lifted his great four-motored craft from the harbor and headed south on the 1,806-mile, last lap of Pan American's new route from the United States to New Zealand.

It was 38 minutes later, at 6:08 a. m., when Capt. Musick reported that one of the motors had developed an oil leak and he was heading back to Pago Pago.

In that time he would not have gone more than 75 miles. Auckland is nearly due south of here, and that was the direction the clipper went.

Then, for almost two hours, nothing more was heard of the plane. It was 7:55 a. m. when the clipper passed over Apia, on the island of Upolu. That is 75 miles west of Pago Pago.

Evidently Capt. Musick had turned northwest to return to Pago Pago in a wide circular route from the west, but he was never much more than 75 miles from either Apia or Pago Pago. Even with one motor stalled, it was not considered possible that the plane would or could have proceeded slowly enough to take two hours to arrive at Apia.

LIKE HINDENBURG

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Bureau of air commerce officials said today that Pago Pago reports indicate the Pan-American Samoan Clipper may have suffered the same fate that befell the German dirigible Hindenberg.

Pago Pago reported that wreckage of the clipper was found strewn over a wide area, indicating that the ship may have been blown to bits in midair as gasoline was being dumped to "trim" the ship for the descent to the ocean surface.

The exact cause of the Hindenberg explosion was never determined. However, the investigating board cited the possibility that static electricity or sparks from the exhaust of the engines might have ignited hydrogen which the Hindenberg was valving in a manner not dissimilar from the clipper's valving of gasoline.

Samoan Clipper Tragedy Saddens County Folk

The destruction of the Samoan Clipper, Pan-American Airways plane pioneering a new air route to Australia, on Wednesday, was a tragic piece of news to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Auwater of Pollock Pines.

The Auwaters were warm personal friends of Captain Edwin C. Musick, who commanded the crew of seven on the ship, all of whom lost their lives with the captain when the plane fell in flames while 14 miles off Pago Pago in the South Pacific.

Mrs. Myra Nightingale was in town Monday from near Latrobe.

County Fair Returns $500 To Legion Post

El Dorado Post No. 119, American Legion, on Wednesday night received from the county fair board of directors a check for $500 representing the profit on the fair. This is according to L. J. Anderson, secretary-manager of the fair.

According to the secretary-manager, the directors of the fair for 1937 have now discharged their duties, but will remain as directors until the appointment of a new board by the executive committee of the American Legion Post, to take charge of the fair for 1938.

GRANGE HEADS INSTALLED

State Master Sehlmeier, Home From National Grange, Gives Interesting Report

The newly chosen officers of the subordinate Granges of El Dorado County, with a sprinkling of Amador County Grange officers-elect joined El Dorado-Amador Pomona Grange in joint installation at the I. O. O. F. hall last Friday night.

State Master George Sehlmeier, as has been the custom in late years, was installing officer.

Owing to a blanket of fog over the lower country, which made night driving hazardous, many patrons did not venture out, but nearly one hundred were present to be inducted into office, and in addition there were many guests, which accounted for the one hundred fifty seated at the banquet tables at the conclusion of the initiatory exercises.

The state master, who returned only recently from the National Grange meeting at Harrisburg, Pa., reported on the activities of the nation's body. In part he said:

"Looking over the eastern market, the problem is not over-production, but under-distribution."

He said further that "American capital which goes abroad to secure cheap labor should be obliged to sell their product in the country in which it is made and should not be permitted to bring their products home to be sold in competition with home manufactured goods."

In conclusion he pointed out that America is in no danger from fascism, communism and such, so long as the level headed people take an interest in law making.

The officers installed by the Pomona Grange are: Ben Brown, master; William Wygersma, overseer; Mrs. Agnes Blair, lecturer; Claiborne Trumbley, steward; Mrs. Mae Kline, chaplain; Fred Mayhew, treasurer; Harvey Jamieson, secretary; Robert Johnson, gatekeeper; Mrs. Minnie Marchini, Ceres; Mrs. Elizabeth Davis, Flora; Mrs. Wanda Jacquier, lady assistant steward; and Carl Visman, member of the executive committee.

The old schoolhouse is being remodeled to serve as a community hall and proceeds of a free will offering and the sale of candy for the evening will go to a fund being raised to purchase furnishings for the hall.

FIVE SAVED FROM CRASH — Resembling some huge prehistoric monster crawling ashore from an antediluvian sea is this giant Army transport airplane recently forced down in the San Francisco Bay. Skillful handling and discharge of its load of gasoline while still in the air, and an SOS are said to have saved the crew of five men and prevented heavy damage to the ship, which remained afloat. Later it was towed by a Coast Guard vessel to the Alameda airport, where it is shown above.

150,000 TO GET JOBS SOON

Unemployment Reported As "Leveling Off" Since Jan. 1 In United Press Survey

By MAX L. BROWN

United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK, (Copyright, 1938 By United Press)—Approximately 150,000 jobless men will find employment in the next six to eight weeks, and 10 of the 12 federal reserve districts expect marked improvement in employment before April, a nation-wide survey of unemployment by the United Press indicated today.

The survey co-ordinated analyses of employment conditions in all twelve federal reserve districts and included special reports from "key" industrial centers.

Its findings were:

1. That the increase in unemployment which started last October began leveling off January 1.

2. That approximately 100,000 men, not included in prospects for the next month and a half, already have returned to work this month. And that 50,000 more are expected to resume their jobs before the end of this month.

3. That a substantial percentage of the employees in heavy manufacturing lines are on a part-time basis.

4. That many large organizations have revived the depression "spread the work" idea to provide employment for as many workers as possible.

5. That there has been little pay cutting and that payrolls have declined generally in proportion to cuts in employment and hours.

Reports from the different regions when averaged on a percentage basis with the unemployment rolls of the federal government, indicated that approximately 1,500,000 persons lost their jobs in the last two and a half months of 1937, while about the same number had hours of employment reduced.

Maxine Potts Hostess On 10th Birthday

Maxine Potts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Potts, celebrated her tenth birthday on Tuesday afternoon by inviting the more than fifty pupils of Miss Kathleen Richardson's fifth grade class at the Placerville Grammar School to share the afternoon with her.

These were all class-mates of Maxine, who, despite not being able to attend school this semester because of illness, is keeping up with her class by doing her studies at home.

Her classmates wished her happy birthday and an early return to her desk at school.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clark were in town from Garden Valley on Thursday.

"CONQUEST" NEW GARBO PICTURE

Stirring Romance Of Fabulous Napoleon Bonaparte Boyer In Star's Support

Hailed as the most distinguished motion picture in which Greta Garbo has yet appeared, the Empire Theatre tonight offers "Conquest," stirring romance of the fabulous Napoleon Bonaparte and the woman he loved, in which the glamorous Swedish star makes her first co-starring appearance with Charles Boyer, hero of "The Garden of Allah" and "History is Made at Night."

In the new story, filled with the memories of an epochal period in world history, Garbo plays the role of the beautiful Countess Walewska who forsakes her home and her husband in an heroic attempt to win over Napoleon and thus save the life of her country. Boyer in an astounding realistic make-up is seen as Napoleon.

The picture is the latest directorial achievement of Clarence Brown who was behind the cameras in the filming of such successes as "Anna Karenina," "Flesh and the Devil," "Romance" and "Anna Christie." Adrian designed a series of breath-taking costumes for the star and Herbert Stothart composed the lovely musical score which accompanies the picture.

DIAMOND BOY SCOUTS PLAY HOST FOR SCOUTMASTER

The Boy Scouts at Diamond Springs surprised Mr. C. W. Doe, Jr., when they provided the feed for their meeting on January 6. On Thursday, December 30, Mr. Doe was absent due to a cold and under the direction of Jack Landis, assistant Scoutmaster, we planned the feed. We had French bread, cheese, lunch meat and chocolate.

Mr. Doe spoke of the necessity of the boys going at their tests in an enthusiastic way. We hope to have a nice showing at the District Court of Honor in February.

We then discussed the coming Camporee and Boy Scout Week. The closing exercises were held and the meeting adjourned.

JAMES HENDERSON, troop scribe.

COUNTY MAN'S MIND RETURNS

Amnesia Victim Wandered For 16 Years, Recently Reunited With Daughter

El Dorado County friends of Albert A. Outcalt, now 54, expressed joy during the week that after sixteen years of wandering, an apparent victim of amnesia, he is now reunited with members of his family.

Albert Outcalt and his brother, John, now an attorney at Los Banos, were boys in Placerville about forty years ago but the family moved away about 1900, apparently to Sacramento.

For it was from that city that Albert disappeared sixteen years ago when he boarded a street car in the Oak Park district and disappeared. He was then employed at the Southern Pacific shops and resided with his wife and his daughter, then aged 9, at 2928 Thirty-Second Street.

Mrs. Outcalt is deceased and the daughter, with whom the father is now reunited, is Mrs. Doris Marquis, of Las Vegas, Nevada.

On that day sixteen years ago, Outcalt boarded a street car in the Oak Park district to go to the Sacramento business district to a theater. He declares he does not remember getting off the car.

Aside from having a faint knowledge of having worked in Montana mines under the name of R. O. Smith, Outcalt remembers little of his activities during the years that followed his loss of memory. He wandered, sometimes (Turn to Page 4)

HOUSING BILL DUE SOON

Arizona Senator Forecasts Stimulus For Building Activities In New Measure

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Sen. Carl Hayden, D. Ariz., expressed hope today that a housing bill soon would be passed by congress.

The senator said that, while it is impossible to foretell definitely, it was probable that passage of the measure would stimulate building throughout the country and act to alleviate the business recession.

Any large scale building program, Hayden said, would have favorable effects upon the copper industries of Arizona, since need for roofing and electrical wiring would increase demands for the metal.

Hayden declined to comment upon the problems involved in final formulation of the bill nor would he attempt to predict the possibility of its passage until he has had an opportunity to study the finished measure.

LAW MOVES SWIFTLY IN CASE OF BURGLARY SUSPECT

The processes of the law moved swiftly Thursday for Calvin McGahagin, 29, charged with attempted burglary.

The suspect was arrested early Thursday morning by City Night Officer John Bathurst who reported he apprehended McGahagin in the act of attempting to force an entry into the store at James K. Pierson's White Spot auto court.

City and county officials went into conference Thursday forenoon and the result was that McGahagin was before Justice of the Peace T. F. Lewis at 2 o'clock in the afternoon for a preliminary hearing on the attempted burglary charge, and was by the Justice bound over for trial in Superior Court.

District Attorney Henry S. Lyon said he did not know whether an information might be filed before the day was out.

Listen, Young America:

If you want the answer to "What's happening in the world," you'll find it on Page 58 of Collier's magazine for January 22.

If you've been a bit confused and haven't quite been able to dope out the "system" by which things are operating, you ought to read that article.

If you ARE much concerned, you WILL read it, and if you're the kind of a fellow who thinks it wouldn't do you any good to read the article anyway, the chances are you are right;—it probably won't.

But "Room at the Top" is a grand tonic for young and old in these days when most of us need just such a tonic in heaping tablespoons full.

And now, Younger America:

The Cub Pack of Boy Scouts is going to get started again. Merle Thomas, who was Cubmaster so successfully a year or more ago, is returning to his old post.

All of you boys between the ages of nine and 12 years who are interested in Scouting, are invited to meet at the Junior Community Hall on Benham street at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. The parents of Cubs are welcome to attend the meeting and help get things started.

The Cub Pack is sponsored by the Twenty-Third Club.

Heavy production, with strong, if not peak prices, of sugar beet seed, alfalfa, alfalfa seed, and grain, summarizes the year's agricultural business in the Hemet valley.

Records of the International Labor Offices are reported to show that the laboring man in the United States receives an average of 61.6 cents per hour.

"Synthetic Cotton" Process Found

PITTSBURGH. (AP)—Discovery of a process for making paper and "synthetic cotton" from straw and other waste from materials, was announced here by Dr. F. W. Hochstetter, Pittsburgh scientist.

The process can utilize almost anything composed of strong fibers, including cornstalks, shrubs, weeds, marsh grass, goldenrod, mountain grass and broom fibers.

He said paper is now being made of straw but heretofore no method has been developed for dissolving or eliminating the shiny and waterproof outside covering of the straw, resulting in a paper coarse and speckled with impurities.

PEAR COST STUDY MAY BE MADE IN COUNTY

In response to a suggestion made by some pear growers, the Farm Advisor's office has mailed to pear growers of the county inquiring whether a pear cost study for the county is decid-

The last such study in the county was conducted in 1930.

Growers are asked to return their cards by Friday of this week, expressing their wishes on the proposal.

A meeting will be held Monday night at the Farm Advisor's office to discuss the results of the survey as shown by the cards returned, and to make such plans as the survey warrants.

Memory Returns To County Man

as a workman, sometimes as a hobo.
Three months ago, he suffered an injury to his head in an automobile accident near Pocatello, Idaho. It restored his memory. He visited Sacramento to search for his family, but could find no trace of his son, now, 29 and working in Los Angeles, or his daughter.

Outcalt made a chance acquaintance with Frank K. Huston of Kansas City several days ago and told his story.
Huston communicated with Outcalt's brother John of Los Banos, Calif.

In that manner, the daughter was located.

In Tucson, friendly sheriff's deputies put Outcalt in telephonic communication with his daughter. The young woman hurried to Tucson and a tearful reunion followed the establishment of their identities.

The daughter and son had given up their father for dead.

Outcalt walks with a cane. Long years on the road, he said, brought on rheumatism.

"I was just about all in and had decided to write my brother for money when officers contacted my daughter,"
he said.

Outcalt now is going to Las Vegas to live with his daughter. As soon as he is settled there, he wants to send for his son.

The sudden turn of events left him almost speechless. He said:

"It's all unbelievable."
